Part II, Section C, line 17a, Facts and Circumstances Test:

The Organization has maintained a continuous and bona fide program for solicitation of funds from the general public, community, government units, and other charities. The public support percentage for 2011 and 2010 was approximately 26% and 22%, respectively, since some donations for use in the Organization's charitable programs from several contributors were larger than anticipated. As contained in the program descriptions in Part III of the Form 990, the Organization's program services directly benefit the general public on a continuing basis. While certain large Foundation grants may continue in the near term, this support is crucial to the Organization's exempt purpose of promoting and contributing to the control of infectious and neglected tropical diseases. The Organization expects to continue to solicit qualifying public support to assist in carrying out these program. Finally, the Organization's governing body represents the broad interest of the public, with no one individual or related group of individuals having undue control or influence over the Organization's funding or affairs. These Board members bring important skill sets and qualifications that help the Organization plan and achieve its strategic objectives. Accordingly, the "facts and circumstances" substantiate that the Organization continues to operate as a public charity.
