Form 990, Part III, Line 2, New Program Services:

After a significant strategic review in 2016, Sabin relaunched its advocacy focal areas as Vaccine Access & Uptake and Vaccine Knowledge & Innovation. This is not a major departure from our history; however, it does represent an intentional strategic shift moving forward and we expect this will help us achieve our vision of a world free from vaccine-preventable diseases and will help us deliver sustainable, evidence-based solutions that extend the benefits of immunization to everyone, everywhere. We are excited about the opportunities ahead.

Form 990, Part III, Line 3, Changes in Program Services:

After more than a decade of progress, the Global Network for Neglected Tropical Diseases concluded its activities. This is in alignment with Sabin's strategic vision to focus on vaccine R&D, access, uptake and expanding the related knowledge base.

Sabin is proud of its decade-long contribution toward eliminating NTDs and helping to raise the profile of the millions suffering from NTDs as a cause worthy of greater attention, funding and collective response.

Through the Global Network, Sabin shaped the international dialogue about NTDs. Since 2006, Sabin has brought NTDs onto the global agenda, generating political will among endemic and donor countries and working to obtain a place for NTDs in the Sustainable Development Goals. Sabin expanded treatment for NTDs across more than 80 countries by helping countries draft national plans to implement and expand treatment programs, secured more than $165 million in funding to support NTD treatment, and galvanized advocates for political and financial commitments to fight NTDs, from heads of state to the general public. Sabin's award-winning END7 campaign built a grassroots movement to garner public support for the effort to end the seven most common NTDs through advocacy, fundraising and creative digital and social media promotion. The campaign helped provide treatment for more than 50 million people in over a dozen countries by raising $1.2 million from the public to support NTD treatment programs.

and protect immunization systems for generations to come.

Sabin is an adviser, a convener and a catalyst of systemic change, bringing together researchers, national government officials and immunization specialists at all levels to support the introduction and expansion of new and under-utilized vaccines. In order to make informed decisions about vaccine introduction and implementation, countries require high-quality information and evidence. Sabin supports surveillance programs and conducts research to generate essential epidemiological data for well-designed and efficiently implemented immunization programs. By establishing and sharing best practices, we help countries evaluate and streamline vaccine introduction and scale-up.

Collaboration across continents and sectors is critical to extend the benefits of immunization around the globe. Through our international scientific meetings, Sabin fosters dialogue between global health leaders, researchers and implementers to unify global efforts to accelerate access to new and under-utilized vaccines.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b, Program Service Accomplishments:

Sabin connects immunization professionals with the resources they need to overcome barriers to vaccination and improve vaccine uptake and coverage in their countries. Our scientific meetings, trainings and workshops provide professionals with the skills and tools to strengthen their countries' vaccine research capabilities, foster vaccination program resiliency and implement successful immunization campaigns.

Sabin works to shape the vaccine conversation by amplifying reliable information on vaccines. We serve as a leading voice on critical issues in global immunization, including vaccine confidence, vaccine safety and global health innovation. We also work to drive more effective, accurate media coverage on vaccines by equipping journalists with the latest information on disease burden and immunization.
